

CEOs get in the swing for charity

SENSES Foundation's annual charity golf day was held at The Vines Resort and Country Club in the Swan Valley last Friday.

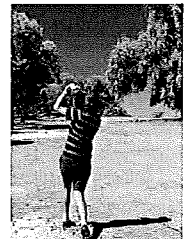

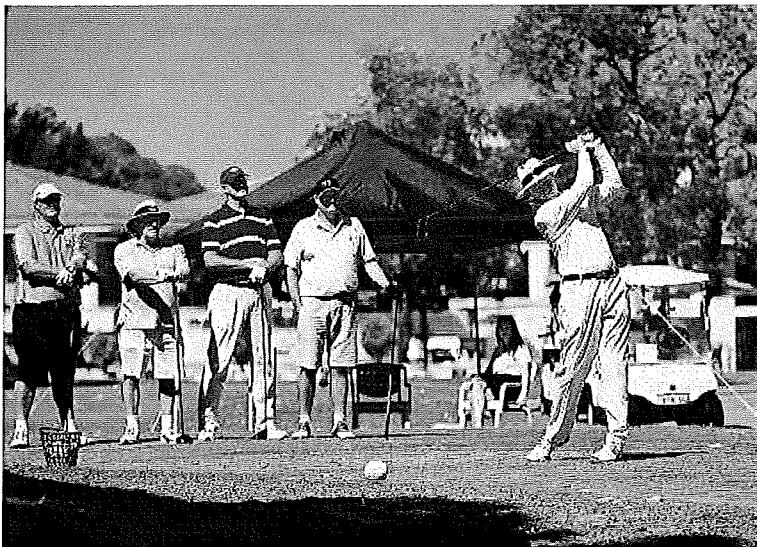

The golf day saw Perth's leading chief executives, executives and philanthropists take to the greens to raise crucial funds to support people with deafblindness living in rural and remote WA.

The Vines' in-house golf pro Mark Tibbles challenged players to "beat the pro" and offered private coaching for extra donations.

For more information about Senses sponsorship opportunities, call Dee de Vos on 9473 5437 or email event.coordinator@senses.asn.au.

Clockwise from left: Eric Dennis, Andy Coles, Mike Frampton and Brian McGuinness watch Mark Tibbles tee off; Murray Parsons, Sam Kempton, Matthew Jukic and Kevin Leipold; Wayne French hits a great shot around the trees; Golfers enjoying a hit during the competition. Picture: Matthew Poon

www.communitypk.com.au d39662